

Table of contents

		Page
Hans Brugemann	Welcome and opening of the Congress	1
Prof. Dr. Gunter M. Rothe	Models and experimental findings relating to the "memory" of water and their significance for the bioresonance method	3
Dr. Jurgen Hennecke	Salicylic acid — a problem substance for allergy sufferers	17
Norbert Lindner	The vegetative nervous system: New approaches in the treatment of symptoms relating to vital functions	22
Dr. Sinan Akkurt	Lung cancer: New prospects for treatment	26
Dr. Cornelia Schumacher	Complex treatment of urogenital disorders using bioresonance	42
Alexander A.C. Rijsberman	Nanoparticles — an abstract danger to our health?	58
Simone Maquinay	Tips & tricks for successful testing	71
Dr. Sumer Zeynep Karabey	Traces in the face — organ-related facelifts using bioresonance	75
Marcel Riffel	New options in the treatment of pathogenic substances	85
Marianne Thalmann	Orthomolecular substances: sensible use during Bicom treatment	92
Dr. Jutta Schreiber	Periodontitis — the most common infectious disease affecting the oral cavity. Basic principles for successful treatment	100
Dr. Esra Kirsever	Bioresonance — an approach to the treatment of intrauterine fetal pathologies	106
Dr. Bianka Carstens	Therapy options for treating chronic respiratory disorders in horses	133
Irene Kolbe	Herpes in different guises: successfully treating viral stresses caused by HPV, Epstein-Barr and Varicella zoster	136
Dr. Uta Schmieden-Lindner	Significant therapy results when treating serious auto-immune conditions	141